

App Idea

Elevator Pitch

Have you ever needed to access information through a phone assistant but were in a remote location? Forgot what you were trying to gather information for? Can't access your phone assistant while offline? With Demitri assistant you can still use the majority of the features offline as you can online. It can still be voice activated to help set reminders and store search information while offline. Once online it will then search for the stored information you requested.

Assumptions

- People who work remotely or work in large buildings with limited service.
- People who can't afford quality internet service providers.
- People who want to be organized and follow a routine throughout their day.

Problem Statement

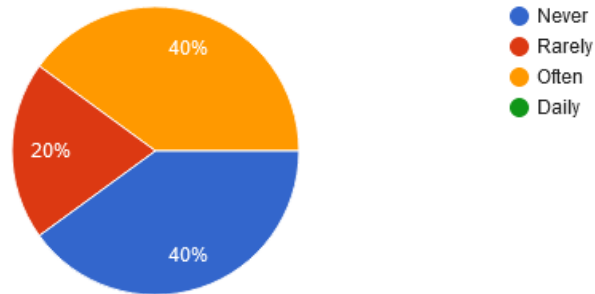

Mobile devices have made everyone's lives easier. However they are not always convenient especially in scenarios where the user is in a remote location. With the Demitri Assistant app you can issue hands free phone commands such as text, email, and set reminders, even while offline. Once service has been reestablished any commands that were issued offline will then be carried out.

Analysis & Reporting Results

From our survey we discovered that voice assistants may be used often and that it would be useful to help set reminders up for others through their own device. A good amount of responses felt this app would be useful, especially if it helps provide hands free assistance while driving. The survey also showed that it could be beneficial to have an offline feature if no phone service or wifi was available.

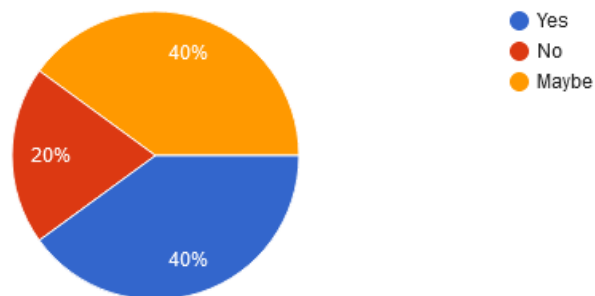

How often do you use your voice assistant (Siri, Google Assistant, and Bixby)?

5 responses

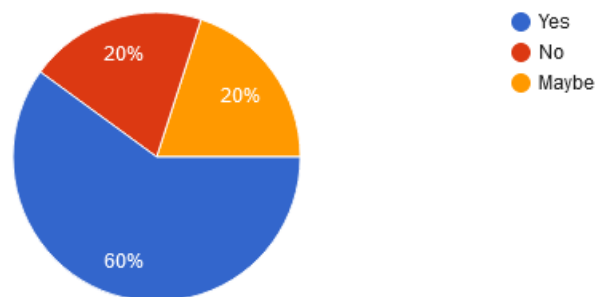

Would you find it convenient to have access to your voice assistant if you had no available phone service or wifi?

5 responses

Would you find it helpful to set reminders for others from your phone to theirs?

5 responses

What would you change about your voice assistant?

4 responses

- Make it capable of opening all my apps
- Privacy
- Accent
- Present a relevant option menu

How important is it to be hands free while driving or doing other tasks that require your full attention?

5 responses

